PROFILE

I'm an enthusiastic full stack developer who loves bringing ideas to life through code. With strong skills in HTML, CSS, and React on the frontend, and experience using ASP.NET and Express for backend development, I focus on building responsive, user-friendly, and high-performing web applications. I've worked with databases like MongoDB and PostgreSQL, and I thrive on learning new technologies to enhance performance and improve my craft. I'm eager to grow, collaborate with creative teams, and make a meaningful impact in real-world projects
